THE CANTATA LAST NIGHT.

One of the largest and most elegant udiences we have ever seen here filled the Opera Hall last night to witness the performance of the Cantata, the "New Year's Eve." Probably it was nothing new to very many; certainly it is so old that we propose to give no details of the story. But we can say that in all its features it was perfect and beautiful to the eye and to the ear. Recalling the vivid picture, we feel as if for the new to very many; certainly it is so old time we had for the time lived in a poetic illusion from which the present was effaced, and in which the past came up in vivid reality with all the charm that fancy has thrown around rustic sports and rural pleasures upon which the English writers of the past so much lie lighted to dwell and which have fasch nated the American readers into subjection to the same delicious spell. We will not dispel the illusion by note of

(For the Asheville Citizen, OUR BREVARD LETTER

BREVARD, N. C., Aug. 11, 85. Messrs. Editors :- Still the refreshing showers come. Yesterday afternoon the shower was accompanied with more wind than was comfortable. In fact it was quite a storm, commencing hear the Lime Kiln section, and taking a southwest direction. Along the path of the Latest news gives a more favorable as storm corn is so prostrated and tangled gathered. The number of strangers within our gates is constantly increasi Lord Chief Justice Coleridge was mar-ried this afternoon to an American lady of Charleston, S. C., are stopping with Mrs. Gash.

> That the South Carolina division will be built and that at an early day is beyond all question; the date of its crossing the Blue Ridge depends very much on the interest our people take in the road. The knowing ones feel confident that this county will come to the front with a lib> eral subscription when called upon to Surely, no people need a road more than we do. When our merchants, farmers and business men had to com-pete with others similarly situated, their isadvantage was not so appreciable. Now that they are surrounded, by counties enjoying rallroad facilities they feel their isolated position, and realize the necessity of placing themselves in more direct communication with the outside world.

Our people are pleased with the posi-tion the CIVIZEN has taken on Revenue Reform, The Democratic party in this State is pledged, in no idle nor unineaning way, to work for the repeal of this bjectionable law. So long as the law remains on the statute books of the nation, the Democratic administration is compelled to en-force it. An oppressive law is not less greatly improved, still the Democratical party in the State is pledged to use every exertion to secure, the removal or at least the modification of its objectionable features. The people can ask no more, nor will they be satisfied with less. There is, Messra. Editors, as you are well aware considerable feeling amo our Western people on this subject. Not that they object to the tax on whiskey, but they do seriously object to the criminal features of the law-and expect earnest efforts to be made for some relief. As for ourselves, in our ignorance, we always swear by the action of the party prove recreant to a trust committed to its keeping. So mote it be. Z.
